IT'S CLEAR WHY THIS BOUTIQUE WEALTH
MANAGEMENT FIRM STANDS OUT.

Debra Fournier, a life-long resident of the Jersey Shore, chose "Seaview" as the name of the company she founded, one of the few women-owned and operated firms in the industry. Financial transitions planning is the specialty here, particularly for women experiencing divorce, death of a spouse or retirement. Throughout her 25-year career, Debra continues to draw on her extensive knowledge and experience, offering a holistic, personalized approach to address the changing circumstances of her clients. "In the fast-paced digital world we live in, clients are looking beyond traditional investment management to include all aspects of their financial lives," says Debra. "They're seeking a modern experience that is customized and hands-on. With proper planning and guidance, we help our clients make sound financial decisions as they transition into the next chapter of their lives."
